Iris City Gardens

Vigorous Washington grown Iris are noted for their ability to produce gorgeous blooms on account of our ideal soil and climatic conditions. We guarantee that you will not be disappointed with the size and energy of our rhizomes. Walla Walla Valley with its hot, dry summers and cool winters makes it the perfect breeding ground for Washington Iris.

Our gardens are in College Place, Washington, where homes have been built around Walla Walla College. We are located three miles west of Walla Walla, the "Iris City of the West." Visitors always welcome.
